Frank's taking (a) and (b); I'm taking (c) and (d); Doug's taking (e) and (f). There doesn't seem to be anything to say about (g) or (h).

I realize this is very short notice, but would the 3 of you please divide the proposed rule revisions among you and prepare very brief written summary of what each entails, identifying, if possible, similarities and differences with extant rule provisions and those proposed in the NPRM. Brief suggestions as to why Brian might oppose each and what he might propose as an alternative would be very welcome. I'm partially engaged in the same task, but I need assistance and value your opinions. If at all possible, please get something to me by end of day.

Thanks,
Jim
